Information about the Elden Ring LANDMINE PROJECT

1. The "landmine project" is the company name of the Elden Ring COMPANY that develops the game.
2. The game is made by the Elden Ring COMPANY, who have released another Minecraft-like project in the past.
3. From the development standpoint, this development project is a combination of the Elden Ring Company's multiple different experience and knowledge, as well as that of the game development team.
4. The development costs are being covered by the 3DCG development team.
5. Due to the nature of this project, the Elden Ring Company is partnering with the three fantasy RPG developers. Since each of them has their own individual world, each of the three development teams is in the process of developing the game.
6. The three developers for this project are:
7. Maximum Studio
8. Studio Anima
9. The Tavern
