Can anyone give me a rough estimate of what salary ranges data scientists working in the US currently earn for positions in the sector? A: I personally am fortunate enough to work with data scientists in the US that can make between $80,000-$120,000, I was just talking to a friend of mine who works at a hedge fund in NY and he makes over $125,000 per year. In terms of a general range in the US the average is probably around $70-80k, but then there's the region (SF is high, NYC is high, etc.). A: Take a look at glassdoor.com, there is a tool on the bottom left that will tell you average salary ranges. The big advantage of working at a data science company is that it provides a substantial bonus and often offers other benefits. As you get more senior, your salary will usually go up, although it may not always increase by a lot. A: I am not sure if I have accurate information, but the salary for data scientists in the USA seems to be between $70,000 and $120,000. I made the above estimate by averaging the salaries of data scientists in consulting companies. Can you do it all? A review of the dietary and body composition aspects of weight management. Today, it is increasingly recognized that diets, defined as individual intakes of specific foods, are not adequate for the effective management of energy balance. However, many consumers would agree that they have the ability to adhere to what they consider to be a diet. This review considers the evidence for the view that, for many individuals, achieving, maintaining, or reducing weight is a product of what they do and not simply what they eat. We propose that it is time to re-think what a diet is and, specifically, how to go about designing and implementing one
