Ask HN: best place to get funded by VCs? - abossy I'm a bigtime developer who wants to take the time to go find investors/angel investors and get them interested in my new startup idea before building it.I really want to use HN/YC because it seems like a great place to hear from people who are looking for startups. The best way I think to do that is to go to one of the incubators ( and find that company that is looking for funding. In other words, I don't want to look for funding on my own because I think it's much easier to get the attention of investors if I'm speaking from a position of expertise/need.Any suggestions? Is there a company/incubator somewhere that can help me out? And are there any other people who can help me out and be good ambassadors for what I'm doing (e.g. another HN user)? ===== bobby Most people are in a position where they have a business with the potential for growth - I want you to be in that position. You must be able to show you have lots of users. You want to be able to talk about your users and your plans for that user growth. Don't contact investors if you can't show there is a market for your product and that you have users. VCs want to be funding companies that have people paying for it and investing in your company. That is why you are getting the response from YC. They are interested in the services you are offering and the story you have to tell. Contact them. ----- ig! Ask around in the HN community. You'd be surprised how many people are working on startups that aren't sitting on the co-founder roadmap and are open to talking to investors. Q: Way to tell in which method of the class the error occurred? Is there any way to tell in which method of the class the error occurred? I know that I can make all methods in the class final, but this approach does not take
